Dear Sir:

I am willing to give two hundred dollars ($200.00) for the twenty decorations that you showed me, on April 24th, together with the gilt decoration of the Order of St. Maurice and St. Lazarus, which you informed me belonged with the collection, but which you did not bring at that time.

I will hold this offer open for one week, and if you should decide to accept it, I will hope to hear from you within that time.

Very truly yours,

Director.

My dear Sir

I beg to thank You for your letter at last but regret I cannot accept your offer of $200 for the decorations

Having now refreshed
my memory as to what the

the majority of the Collection Cost me, by some data that has been mislaid among my papers, I find that the price I placed on the decorations is not at all high.

With kind regards,

Very truly yours

J. Salcedo Gomez

Dear Mr. Gomez:-

I have decided to keep the little book that you left here the other day, and I enclose herewith check for four dollars, the amount that you told me you would charge for it. Kindly acknowledge receipt, and oblige,

Yours very truly,
